SILVER SPECULATION.

From the latest information to hand it appears (says the Pioneer) that the silver speculators in Bombay and London have still about four million sterling invested in silver bars. Not so long ago their holdings considerably exceeded that figure. When consideration is given to the fact that, outside silver bars held by various governments for coinage purposes, the visible supply of that metal was recently valued at about seven millions sterling, the magnitude of the operations of the speculators is readily seen. Their "rigging" of the market has certainly interfered very seriously with legitimate husiness, and one does not know exactly whether to feel glad or sorry to learn that they very nearly over-reached themselves a short time back by "loading up" too soon. Fortunately or unfortunately an unexpected demand from China relieved the pressure. If the "corner" had failed, as it came within an ace of doing, it is difficult to say now what would have happened had the enormous quantity of silver held up been suddenly let loose on the market, but it is not at all improbable that the Government of India, would have snapped up some of it for coirage purposes, (if course the game of the specialness is to sit tight till the Indian Government comes forward as a large paircluser, and then to unload at as large a profit as can be squeezed out of the market. It was fully believed that purchases for Indian coinage would, have to be made before the close of 1910, but Sir Cuy Fleetwood Wilson has managed to hold off so far and has left the speculators with an enormous holding on which they have the pleasure of paying say six per cent, by way of interest, and that percentage per annum on four millions sterling means something daily. So far, however, the speculators are not apparently dissatisfied with their lot, and they have by no means lost confidence in their ability to catch the Government of India in the near future. The harvests of both India and China are good and it requires an impense amounof silver to finance them, while the tendency towards better government in the Celestial Empire is also a tendency towards better trade and prosperity, which, being interpreted, means more silver, for silver and wealth mean the same thing in China. So in the opinion of the speculators, the outlook is rosy. On the other hand, the time of reckening will come-must come and the fate of the corner will depend on the result. In the early spring the demand from Chine falls off and the all-important question in India then in: In the coming monsoon to be a success or a failure ! If the falling off in the China demand is not excessive and i one, then it certainly looks as if the hopes and "bag" the Government of India ; if otherwise they stand a fair chance of-being bagged themselves.

A Talk on Hall's Distemper.

HALL'S Distemper continues to grow in popularity both at home and abread The widely increased demand during the past year has been unother great tribute to its sterling worth. Lending Architects and Builders are specifying its more than ever, and it has been selected for use in a great many of the leadings. public buildings such as The Tower of London. The Royal Mint, The Royal Hospital, Chelsea; The War-Office, The Admiralty, The National Gallery, The British Museum, The General Post Office, The Offices of Woods and Forests, etc., and in Buckingham and St. James' Polices.

While a description of Hall's Distemper is no doubt superfluous, we beg to remind Architects, Builders, and Householders of the following special points

It is made in two qualities-The Inside quality is the modern scientific substitute for wall-paper; it makes a more artistic, practical, and healthier wallcovering altogether.

The Outside quality is fully weather resisting, it can be used on wood work. iron work, brick work, stone, etc., and can be painted or varnished;

Hall's Distemper no doubt owes a great deal of its popularity to its ease of application and, great covering power, resulting in economy in both material and labour costs. 1 civit, will cover double the surface of 1 cwt. pure white lead, - au it dries evenly, overcoming the difficulty of obtaining a uniform tint on

There is no wall covering so hygienic as Hall's Distemper. It contains a powerful germicide, and when applied it is instant death to all insect life. It is NEW LINE VIA HONOLULU, TO THE UNITED washable after three weeks by being lighty sponged with warm water.

Special, Note .- Hall's Distemper should not be confused with the many so call Washable Distempers now offered for sale, nor with that class of material which requires elaborate preparation of walls. Hall's Distemper is unique preparation with entirely distinct advantages, and is made only by Siscons Brothers & Co., Ltd., Hull, and London. Sole Agents for South China :--

A CHINESE VERSION OF THE YUNNAN AFFAIR

A native correspondent in Yunnau, writ ing to the Chung Kicok Pe, refers to the affair in that province that has been causing so much irritation in official circles. The incident happened within the boundaries of two places one of which is named by the Chineso Thug Yuch, and by the Burmose Momein. The other place we have not been able to verify. The inhabitants of that district have been having a quarrel with the people of "a certain country," by which we opine are meant the British. The quarrel increased in intensity, till "the curtain country" thought it wise to send up three thousand soldiers to the scene of the quarrel, with a view to lighting if needs be. When the Viceroy of Yunnan heard of what was going on he was filled with foar, and himself moved up two battalions of soldiers to the place, and made the men proceed by forced marches. His hope was that if he had troops there, these would prevent any fighting. Before the troops arrived, it is reported that the inhabitants of the place had commenced hostilities. The real cause of the trouble was that "this certain country wanted to seize territory, and the people of the place would not allow them to take it: For the present, there is a cessation of hostilities, but it is not known what the Viceroy of the province will do; that is, whether there is an indemnity to be paid, or some country to be Another Chinese version says :- The Vicercy of Yunnan received from the Tablat of the district named trang a cergram informing him of the affair. The representatives of "a certain country" sent up soldiers, whose purpose was to get hold of territory. The Viceroy then communicated with the Consul, and in addition SINGAPORE: Messrs The Borneo | referred the matter to the Board at Peking. We now have been able to find out why it was that soldiers were nurched forward into the territory. It had to do with the seizing of land, and also with the construction of the Burmese-Yumann railway, Chinese territory faces Burmah." During 816 the past summer, suddenly there appeared certain men who surreptitiously entered the territory of China, and fraudidently moved the boundaries between Burmah and China. They set them in places as they thought fit, and always encroached upon our territory. There was correspondence about this between the officials in Kwangsi. and those responsible for the aggression, but no satisfactory conclusion was arrived at. Then the Lung Ling official, one Tsui Shing-taan, was deputed to go in person and on the spot to examine into the question. This official found out that it was true that the boundary marks, had been removed and replaced in other sites, and that Chinese territory had been seized.

He notified the Kwangsai officials, and there was then a good deal of official correspondence and some wrangling. Noither party would give way: "A certain consal" then at once ordered that soldiers be merched forward, and these without more HONGKONG, CANTON AND MACAO ado entered the territory of China, Al first there were some thousands of soldiers. But they continue to arrive, until at last there were twenty thousand men on the spot. When all these soldiers were there

Such in brief is the report that appear in the Chinese press. The letters are said to have been sent from Yunnan. There is a certain unity between the two accounts The story however is evidently written by Chinese, who are reporting what they heard, and have put their own construction upon what facts may have come to their notice.

the people of the district were greatly

TO PREVENT SHIPS ROLLING

Satisfactory Trials of a German Inventor's Plan.

With men-of-war an even keel is of great importance; because of obtaining a steady an platform. Even the best-gunner can shoot straighter when the ship is steady than when she is rolling heavily. With the great ocean liners the same result is asked for, in order to give greater comfort to the passengers, and numerous methods have been proposed for secomplishing the object. The gyroscope was proposed some time ago, and a Tyne-built ship was experimented with apparently satisfactorily, but not much has been heard of it lately. Recently Herr H. Frahm has proposed another method, which is stated to have been successful. Herr Frahm provides two water tanks, one on each side of the ship. The tanks are connected below by a water pipe, and aboveby a pipe containing air only." In the air (THURSDAY), the 9th March, 1911, at pipe there is a controlling valve. As the of, ship rolls the water passes from one tank to the other and sets up a certain oscillaon. This movement can be controlled by he air valve in the upper pipe. .. According to Herr Frahm's experiments the oscillations in the water can be made to oppose the escillations of the ship itself. It is well known that every ship has her own period of oscillation. When she rolls she rolls in a particular way. Similarly the water in the tanks and pipe have their period of oscillation, which is under the control of the engineer, and when he knows his ship and has acquired a certain experience with the apparatus, he can so balance one set of oscillations against the other that the ship maintains a fairly even keel. It is stated that tests were made in signed at 12 o'clock (Noon), on FRIDAY, an oil tank boat of the German Navy, whose mutural period of escillation was very high. The deflection was reduced from 10 degrees to 2 degrees by the sid of the tanks. In another ship, an ocean liner. of 12,000 tons, the roll of 11 degrees on either side is stated to have been reduced 200 to 25 degrees.

SHIPPING GOSSIP.

The s.s. Prominent is, says the Bangkok Daily Mail, soon to change her run. She is at present chartered by Mearra Joo Song and Co. | As is well known the trade botween Bangkok and Singapore is not flourishing just now. It is reported that she will be chartered by the China Merchants Co. of Shanghai for $4,700 a month after the middle of March when her present charter expires.

During the voyage of the R. M. Ophir, which reached Fromantle recently, soveral incidents occurred. On the way to Colombo the attention of the ship's officers was directed to a lady's maid, who was stated to have been disappointed in a love affair. Her state of mental distress was deemed to be such that on arrival at the Ceylon port she was put ashere: - Just before leaving Colombo a stoker, who had been drinking, assaulted one of the engin sers, with the result that he, too, was sent asbore, his further services not being wuited on the voyage. On the trip down to Fremantle a third class stoward named Galler mysteriously disappeared, no traces of him being discovered. It is surmised that he disappeared everboard during the night of January 6 .- West Australian."

The de th has occurred of Mr David. Anderson, an engineer, f om dysentery. The deceased, who was only 27 years of age, went to Bangkok from Rangoon some six years ago and was in charge of the workshope of the Sinn Steam Packet Cu.

Ltd., at Angthong and Petriew. -

The P. and O. Sunda and the Blue funnel liner Antenor took away from Port Swettenham recently between them about house dry and comfortable throughout the 4,300 cases of rubber for Colombo and year; Vegetable and Flower Gardens, European north. There were also shipped European ports. There were also shipped about 900 bags of copra. This, the Malay Mail says, is a record chipment so far, the

The British sailor owes his board to Mr. Hugh ( hilders, a former First Lord of the Admiralty. During his period of office Mr Childers, at the instigation of Prince Leinngon, the Captain of the Royal yacht, attempted to abolish shaving in the Navy. The proposed change met with a strenuous opposition on the part of the older officers, and Mr Childers was induced to approach Queen Victoria on the matter. Her Majosty supported the First Lord: "Our own personal feeling," she wrote, "would be for the beards without the moustaches, as the latter have rather a soldier-like appearance, but then the object in view would not be obtained—to prevent the necessity of shaving . Therefore it had better be as proposed—the entire board, only it should be kept short and very clean. . . . On no account should moustaches be allowed without beards, that must be clearly

BROUGHT NEAR TO DEATH'S DOOR BY DYSENTERY. THIS COLONDO GENTLEMAN VAINLY

OUGHT TO RECOVER VITALITY & STRENGTH UNTIL HE TRIED DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

"I was very nearly brought to death's or a nie years ago by Dysentery." said Mr. A. J. Williams, of Vinmar House, Mutwal, Colombo. Ultimately, after many mouths of painful illness, I was cured of the Dysentery, but its ravages left me in an extremely weak state of health, and I had to exercise the utmost care in dietary matters as the least inrecurrence of my old trouble.

" I was frightfully thin at this time and had no strength to speak of. I tried's number of Patent Medicines which were prosed to be good Tonic remodies with-

- MR. A. J. WILLIAMSON

of Colombo. (From a Photograph)

"When a friend suggested Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I t'ought, I must frankly admit, that those Pills were as much a "quack" medicine as any of the others, but this impression was speedily dispelled after I had given them a fair trial.

" I felt that I was deriving benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from the very start, and day after day-as I went on taking them my strength returned. I put on flesh, my cheeks rounded out sgain and the colour came back to them, my appetite became normal-and found a yself able to eat anything within reason without experiencing ill effects.

"It is now over five years since Dr. Williams' Pink Pills thus restored my health and strength and I have been well ever since. At the present time I feel in first class' form. My case undoubtedly proves that these Pills effect not only speedy but lasting cures."

The fact should never be overlooked that these Pills, so highly praised by Mr. Wil-liamson as by tens of thousands of other grateful cured men and women, are no 'quack" medicine, but, on the contrary, represent the life-work of a greatly gifted British physician—an M. D. of Edinburgh" University, Scotland. It is as the most natural and successful remedy .. for all maladies resulting from debility of the blood or nerves that they have gained their world-wide reputation. Among the disorders they have been proved to cure are Anaemia, Nervous Breakdown, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Malaria, Headachea, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Paralysis, Beri-Beri, Chest Weakness, and ladies special achea and ills. SHIPPING GOSSIP.

In spite of the plage at Dalay, the wharves continue to handle a good turneyer of cargo. On January 18, 072 tons of cargo was landed, 8,796 tons of goods were shipped, and 2,014 tons of cord was discharged and shipped, making the total cargo-work done on that day 1',782 tons.

The Northern Steamship Co. of Russia is reported to have made arrangements for a service of four new steamers to ply between Shanghal and Batoum, Colombo heing the place of call. The rate of freight will be twenty-five shillings per ton. The first of these steamers will loave Shanghai about the middle of June and the second towards the end of July.

Speaking in the U.S. Senate on the question of the Navigation Encouragement Bill, Senator Root, formerly Secretary of S'ate. said that the trade of California, Oregon, and Washington with the Orient-was now entirely carried on by Japanese morehant vessels. The waters beyond the threemile limit from the Pacific coast, he continued, seemed to be Japanese possessions, while although America insisted upon the "open door" in China, that country did not purchase very great quantities of American goods. America must, therefore, concluded the speaker, extend her trade towards such profitable markets as South America, and what was indispensable in these eircumstances was merchant vessels, which, he insisted, should be protected.

The annual report of the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand states that the profit for the year is £75,086. The directors recommend a half-yearly dividend 1959 of 94 per alver making to 7d for the year, and a bonus of 21 per share from the insurance fund, leaving £19,640 to be carried forward.

LONDON SOCIETY THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Mr G. W. E. Russell, in the new instalnent of his." Retrospects" published in the Commonwealth gives us some notes on London Society between 1876 and 1886. Of Queen Victoria he says: "Of beauty, stature, splendour, and other attributes of Queenship, there was none ; but there was a dignity which can neither be described nor imitated, and when her subjects knolt to kiss her hand at"Drawing Room, or Levee, or Investiture, they felt a kind of sacred awe which no other presence could

Of Queen Alexandra he says: "I have admired her more than any other woman whom I have ever seen. To the flawless beauty of the face there was added that wonderful charm of innocence and unfading youth which no sumptuosities of dress and decoration could conceal. To see the Princess in Society was in those days on of my chief delights, and the eight always suggested to my mind the idea of Puritan maiden set in the midst of Vanit

The seventh Duke of Devonshire described as a mathematician and a scholar but no lover of Society. He "used hide behind the door in sheer terror of h guests, while his son, Lord Hartington afterwards eighth Duke, gazed with it concealed aversion on his political sup porters." "Most. remarkable was th face of Lord Beaconafield-past sevent though nobody knows how much; wi his black-dyed hair in painful contrast the corpse-like pallor of his face; with Blue Ribbon and diamond Star, and t piercing eyes which still bespoke unconquerable vitality."

"Sometimes Mr Gladstone was to seen, with his white tie working, round the back of his neck and a rose in buttonhole, looking like a rather unwill captive in the hands of Mrs Gladeto who moved through the social crush w that queenlike dignity of bearing which had distinguished her over since the days when she and her sister, Lady Lyttelton, were ' the beautiful Miss Glynnes."

"Robert Lowe, not yet Lord Sherbrooks, was a colebrity who might often be seen in Society-a noteworthy figure with his ruddy face, snow white hair, and pun, blind gaze. The first Lord Lytton-Bulwer Lytton, the novelist-was dead before I came to London; but his brilliant son, abroad, 'Owen Merodith, in the intervals of official employment was an interesting figure in Society ; curled and oiled and decorated, with a countenance of Samitic type." It will be seen that Mr. Bis | Russell's rivacity has not formken him.

they were causing. They did not realise that they; were disturbing the foundations of a very equitable and just system of taxation. The opium revenue was contributed by the larger portion of the community and in such small individual proportions that no one felt the burden. The liquor duties, however, shifted the weight from the shoulders of the many to the backs of the very few, and in that sense was lacking in strict equity. It is no use crying over spilt milk. The former source of revenue has almost disappeared; the new source is found; to be insufficient for our needs, and

Two splendid games were witnessed last evening: The R.E. started with a lend of 122 points but this was not considered a sufficient advantage especially the two Police representatives were known to be experienced men. The first game was between S. Sgt. Goddard and P. C. Hoaley. Both men are good cueists. Healey, who held the upper hand throughtout, beat his min by 69 points. With this reverse the hopes of the R.E. supporters received a masty shaking especially as their last man had to meet the Champion of the Colony. The R.E. lead was now reduced

The second game, the tit-hit of the evening, was between Sergt Humber and Police Sorut Pitt. The police representative required a win of 54 points to put his team in the next stage of the tourns at the start, Humber being the first to make a show. Pitt could not seem to get going, while his opponent was playing a game which gave his opponent no chance. Humber gradually drew ahead and finally beat his man by 46 points after a most exciting game. The best break of the evening was 44 by Sgt. Humber.

She was joined by a second cruiser, the Tsushima, on the 18th, and by a smaller gun-boat, the Uj on the 20th. On Sunday, the 19th detachments from the Japanese warships. landed on the island of Kulangsu for field day, pitching their tents on a fairly level-piece of ground on the seashere, beyond the residence of the German Consul. Here for some hours they went through many naval evolutions, with much shouting and waving of flags and banners to the amusement and enjoyment of crowds of Chinese who came as spectators to water the performance. After the cramped quarters on board their vessels, no wonder

INDIA AS A FIELD FOR INVESTMENT.

Sir Felix Schuster's Views. Sir Felix Schuster, Bart., presided over meeting of the members of the Royal Society of Arts (Indian Section), whom a paper on "Banking in India" was road by Mr Reginald Murray, formerly manager of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China in the Straits Scttlements and

At the outset Mr Murray referred to the various incidents which had contributed, during the last fifty years to cause a setback in India's credit in the City of London. at the same time showing why he considered that India, as a field for investment, offered much securer and more varied opportunities for investment of sterling capital than had 1907-8. There was no longer any reason why fear of instability should deter the flow of sterling capital to India. When every cause of alarm engendered by previous circumstances should have been allayed, India was again' subject to a sotback by a catch-phrase derived from the cadlines of newspapers, "Unrest_in India." As a flera to distort the counchances of political adversaries, such phrase might be termed applicable, but if it were applied to the condition of India, and more especially to Indian trade and financial stability, there was no more tune n it than in a watchman's whistle. was sometimes said that the acts of violence and seditious propaganda of a few illbalanced Indians were the result of Western education. From his own experience of forty years in the East, spent mostly in India, he was sure that Western education and association with Westerns had taught the people of India much better than they had realised before "what pays," and this The Heart of a Maid, by Charles Garvice.

had taught them to appreciate a better The Unknown To-morrow, by William Le had taught them to appreciate a better style of living and freer opportunities of enjoyment. They had no ambition to go back to the days when famine was un relieved, and when bands of freebooting Sepoys spread over the land, looting as they went. The Indians were not fools. They were realising that hewever old and good a form of civilisation might have been, it could not stand still, that the world, jinked up as it was now by standard means of communication, could not exist in sections, and that they must join the universal throng courting a democracy which could not endure amid the ancient forms of intense conservatism, and in the evolution towards more liberal and less selfish and cramped ideals the progress of banking was having a powerful and practical educative influence. Proceeding, the speaker reviewed the history of the introduction of English banking into India, and, referring to the progress made, he said that the advance, great and rapid as it had been, was only a commencement. When they considered that the cleven leading joint-stock banks in London alone had 2,588 bank offices and £474,000,000 in current and fixed deposit accounts, after allowing for the larger population and smaller individual wealth in India, the only conclusion could be that banking in India, though showing signs of vigorous growth, was still in its swaddling cussion on the paper, expressed the view that there had been no real setback to Indian credit. The price of Indian Government Stocks had not fallen proportionately greater than Consols and other securities in the gilt-edged group. Further, he did not think the "unrest" in India had affected the minds of investors to large extent. In order to develop the resources of the country, the Government had had to borrow very freely during the past few years, but the proceeds of these loans had been devoted to the construction. of railways, and the issues had been well taken up by the British public, not for speculation but as investments. So long as the public knew that such loans would be Government schools at all times and in devoted to the development of railways and kindred purposes there would be plenty of capital available for Indian enterprise. As

by next year it will be possible to apparate to fostering of Indian commercial undertakings, by means of capital from this side, this, he said, must be left to the banks concerned, and if such enterprises were placed before best Chinese Government High (or Middle) | the public in proper form he had no doubt Schools, with the great advantage of better | that money for these purposes would also discipline. The teaching of Scripture is be forthcoming. Given a return to cheap money in London, he had no doubt capital would flow into India for employmont by the banks. With a development of the railways, freedom from agitation both in India and at home-and bearing in mind the benefits of legislation, and the great care bestowed by the Government on the welfare of the people, he had no doubt that in another couple of decades the progroup would be such as was little dreamed of at the present time. He believed that the possibilities of India as a field for invostment were as great as, if not greater than, those of any other of our British pos-

HOW ONE MAN CAN HINDER EDUCATION.

The following state of affairs obtains in one of the districts near Canton. The magistrate's name is Chan Yum-tung. I is a very vigorous man, and has made quite stir in many ways since he took over the duties of his office. But he does not love the new education. Meanwhile there lives this district a very powerful family whose head is named Hui, and this mun is terrible conservative. He attacks the many ways. He and his sycophunts gather at times and throw brickbats at the students when they are ilt work, and also gather upon the roof of the house. Consa quently, there is constant quarrelling and a great deal, of swearing. Meanwhile, though the masters have sent in requests to the official to have the trouble stopped, no answer has been received. This is partly awing to the fact that he does not care about the new learning and secondly he is very friendly with the Hui family, which is responsible for all the frouble. Things have come to a deudlock, and no one seems willing to interfere and put an effective stop to the disturbance.

The Duke of Connaught at a distribution of prizes to the Territorials in London. trusted that the country would recognise the dobt of gratitude due to men who give Over many hours of their valuable time to make themselves as efficient soldiers as the opportunities permitted. He was, he said, greatly atruck with the very fine type of volunteers he saw in enother portion of the Empire.
